

Visual Merchandise Manager (m/f/d)

Flexible at our European locations/ Fulltime

STUDEX® is the world's largest manufacturer of ear piercing systems and accessories. The parent company is headquartered in Los Angeles, California. Around 1,000 employees currently work for STUDEX® worldwide. STUDEX® of Europe GmbH, as the European headquarters, manages all customers and subsidiaries across Europe.

Your Mission

As a Visual Merchandise Manager (m/f/d), you are the creative force behind the way our collections come to life at the point of sale. You'll take charge of the entire visual merchandising journey – from initial concept to full implementation – specifically for our key B2B accounts in the drugstore and retail sector.

Your Responsibilities

- Develop and execute tailored visual merchandising concepts for our products across major European retail and drugstore chains, among others
- Design in-store presentations including shelves, display walls, and promotional areas
- Prepare and deliver impactful client presentations that bring your ideas to life
- Manage implementation on-site – from planning to execution, you're fully hands-on
- Collaborate closely with Sales, Marketing, Product Development, and Management
- Travel across Europe

Your Profile

- Proven experience in visual merchandising, ideally within accessories, fashion, pharmacy or jewelry sectors
- Strong eye for aesthetics, trends, and retail-driven design
- Excellent communication skills in both German and English (min. C1 level), additional languages are a plus
- Creative, solution-oriented, and commercially minded with strong negotiation skills
- Confident, organized, and proactive approach with a "can-do" attitude
- Willingness to travel extensively throughout Europe
- Valid driver's license is required

What we offer

- A dynamic and creative role in a growing international company
- The chance to shape in-store experiences for well-known B2B brands across Europe
- Full ownership: From concept to execution, you'll bring your ideas to life directly at the point of sale
- We offer appropriate remuneration in line with your experience and responsibilities

Shine with us – and let your vision sparkle across Europe!

We look forward to receiving your application, including your CV, portfolio (if available), salary expectations, and your earliest possible start date: hr@studexeurope.com